Discussion of Many Topics at Convention Bring Out New Ideas

One of the interesting features in connection with the convention, she stated, was the discussion of the reading clubs for summer, where children are enrolled in the club and given a reward for reading a certain number of the best books.

Charles A. Cushing, librarian in charge of the branch library, also attended the convention.

The program for the convention included a talk on "The Inter-Relation of the Music Club and Public Library," by Mrs. Cecil Frankel, director of the extension department of the National Federation of Music Clubs. A very clever and unique sketch was given Monday night by the San Diego library staff, who personified various books, each character giving a history of the books.

The importance of story telling in libraries as an introduction to good books was another topic brought out at the convention, which also included talks on "The History of the Henry Huntington Library," "History of the Hoover Collection in Stanford University" by George T. Clark, round table discussions on "Cataloguing," which is being revised and made more practical from the public's standpoint, "Review Work," "Putting Books on the Shelves With Publicity," by Annie Mulhron of the Portland library; "Supervisors of the Branches," by Florence Overton, supervisor of the branches of the New York public library; "Organization of Children's Work in the New York Library," by Jacqueline M. Overton; "The Library in the School," by Clara M. Byrne of the San Pedro branch of the Los Angeles public library.

Various Discussions
Frank H. Pettigill, president of the Los Angeles board of library trustees, presided at the Wednesday session of the convention, during which time there were discussions on "Publishers of Technical and Business Books with Particular Application to California," by Guy E. Marion of Los Angeles public library; "The New State Library," by Milton J. Ferguson; "The Equipment of the Juvenile Library at Pasadena," by Mary Oxley; "The La Jolla Library Building," by W. T. Johnson; "What Would You Rather Do?" by Katherine D. Kendig, chairman of the committee on recruiting for librarianship, which was followed by a round table discussion on what can be done to secure increased funds from taxation for library needs; "Children's Books," by Alice A. Blanchard of Los Angeles library; "Children's Books and Their Publishers," by Wilhelmina Harper; "Recent Tendencies in American Publishing," by Eleanor Foster; "Some Future Themes in American Literature," by Mrs. Roger Welles, author of "Anchors A-Weigh."

Mrs. Fanny E. Marple, one of Glendale's pioneer residents and mother of Dr. Joseph Marple, local osteopath, is seriously ill at her home, 213 West Palmer, and last night morning was not expected to live through the day, it was stated.

Eight months ago Mrs. Marple suffered a nervous breakdown, and responded but slowly to treatment. About a month ago other symptoms appeared which had no connection with the nervous ailment. She was removed to the hospital and after a consultation it was decided that an operation was imperative and the gall bladder was removed.

Although the operation was declared successful, Mrs. Marple did not have sufficient vitality to recover, and has been slowly sinking ever since. Two weeks ago she expressed a desire to return to her home, and since her removal there, has had constant attendance.

Becomes Unconscious
However, she has been steadily growing weaker, and for the past four days has been unconscious, giving no sign of recognition to relatives and friends.

Mrs. Marple is the mother of four sons, Albert, Harry, William and Dr. Joseph Marple, and one daughter, Mrs. Fanny Retts. She has been a resident of Glendale for twenty-two years and has seen it grow from a cluster of little houses to a thriving, full-grown city.

For many years she has been an active worker in the Central avenue Methodist church. She has many friends in the church and throughout the city who are shocked at her rapidly falling health.

Declares Business Is Upon Higher Plane

CHICAGO, June 17.—Business throughout the United States today is conducted on a higher ethical plane than ever before, Judge Albert H. Gary, chairman of the board of directors of the United States Steel corporation, declared in an "alumni day" address at Northwestern university this afternoon.

Judge Gary, an alumnus of Northwestern university law school, was one of the hundreds of "old grads" who returned to Alma Mater and participated in the parade which preceded a luncheon at which he was the speaker.

"The large majority of business men now conduct their affairs in accordance with the avowed belief that right is superior to might," asserted Judge Gary. "They believe that morality is on a par with legality and that the observance of both is essential to worthy achievement; that the rights of customers must always be respected; that employees are associates rather than servants and should be treated accordingly; that stockholders of corporations, as well as all partners, are entitled to any information immediately upon the receipt of the same by any officer or partner, so that under no circumstances can there be preferential rights or opportunities; that destructive competition must give way to humane competition; and that full and prompt publicity of all facts involving the public weal is demanded."

The speaker defined "ethics" as the science of moral duty—moral principles and equity in practice. Not many years ago, he said, the managers of some of the largest private business corporations apparently believed that if their conduct was within the strict and technical rules of law it was immune from public or private attack; that if no public law was violated the corporation should be permitted to secure unlimited profit and might treat indifferently its customers, employees, its competitors and even the general public.

Eight Men Arrested In Act of Flogging

CHICAGO, June 17.—Eight men who kidnaped William Kehoe, president of the West Side Motor company, late last night, were arrested early today in a field on the outskirts of the city while they were in the act of flogging Kehoe. The men accused Kehoe, according to the police, of an attack upon a young woman. Police are investigating to determine if the men are members of the Ku Klux Klan.

Five Killed Result Of Irish Outbreak

BELFAST, June 17.—Four men and one woman were killed in fighting which raged at Newry throughout the night. Incendiaries were active at Newry and several houses were destroyed by fire. The victims were dragged from their beds and shot to death in their homes. Two of the dead are Mr. and Mrs. Crozier, an aged couple. In addition to the dead, a number of persons were wounded. It is reported that several of the wounded are dying.

It is believed that the attack was made in reprisal for a number of killings recently near Newry.

Results of Election In Ireland Unknown

DUBLIN, June 17.—The results of the general election in the Irish Free State on Friday were still clouded in obscurity today and it is believed that they will not be known until Monday.

A critical situation, which threatens trouble between the republicans and free staters, has arisen over the seizure of the Dublin university ballots by "Roderic O'Connor, commander of the rebellious faction of the Irish republican army."

Many fear this is the opening of a campaign on the part of the anti-treaty forces to invalidate the election.

Fifty Persons Drown When Liner Capsizes

HAMBURG, June 17.—At least fifty persons were drowned when the Brazilian-Lloyd liner Avare capsized while being towed to her dock by tugs. It was estimated by officials of the line today. The accident took place on Friday afternoon. A large part of the crew were trapped beneath the decks and could not make any effort to escape.

Lenine Has Second Stroke of Paralysis

RIGA, June 17.—Nicolai Lenine has suffered a second paralytic stroke. It was learned from an authoritative source today. He is reported to have undergone an operation during which part of his spinal cord was removed. The specialists in attendance are discussing the advisability of performing a brain operation.

Gigantic Coalition Of Labor Expected

CINCINNATI, June 17.—Organized labor's first definite move to throw its legions into the big industrial conflict for a "show-down" fight is under way here today.

A gigantic coalition of coal miners and railroad workers, to meet the believed inevitable railroad strike, is expected to result from conferences initiated by railroad workers' heads.

A combination of these two organizations awaits only the sanction of John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America.

In the proposal labor leaders attending the American Federation of Labor convention also see efforts to compel the "big four" railroad brotherhoods to take a definite stand as to support or possible joining the railroad shop crafts if they strike.

Coal Miners to Win, Says John L. Lewis

CINCINNATI, June 17.—"The coal miners will win their strike," John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, declared here today.

"The miners are united as never before and we will win beyond the shadow of a doubt," Lewis said.

Lewis, who came here to attend the American Federation of Labor convention and a coalition conference with the railroad workers, emphatically stated he would not be a candidate against Samuel Gompers for president of the American Federation of Labor.

"All I am interested in now is the winning of the miners' strike," he said.

Railway Labor Board In Vigorous Answer

CHICAGO, June 17.—Charging labor members of the board with "incendiaryism" in advocating a strike of railway workers in protest against its wage cut decisions, and with "distorting the sentiments of the majority," the members of the United States railway labor board comprising the majority today issued a vigorous statement replying to the minority report and upholding their action in ordering wage reductions. The statement followed announcement by the board of wage cuts aggregating $26,500,000 annually in the pay of approximately 320,000 clerks and station employees, signalmen, stationary firemen, engineers and other employees.

Dry Head Demands Ruling On Wet Ships

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Formal demand that the department of justice rule upon the status of the government vessels as carriers of liquor so that the issue may be clarified under the latest decision of the United States supreme court was made upon Attorney General Daugherty today by Prohibition Commissioner Haynes.

The attorney general was asked to settle the dispute between the treasury department and the shipping board, arising out of Chairman Lasker's opinion that the sale of liquors on American ships is legal and to state if the department of justice ruling of the Palmer administration is to be superseded by the shipping board opinion.

N. Y. Central Flyer Held Up by Bandits

PITTSBURG, June 17.—The New York Central flyer between Pittsburgh and Fairmont, West Virginia, was held up by two masked bandits just before noon today between Nonessen and Webster, Pa. After the train was stopped, the express messenger and the baggage man were overpowered and the two robbers ransacked the express car, taking all available papers and everything in the safe. The bandits then hopped off the train, walked up the track a short distance, entered a waiting automobile and rushed away. The amount of the loot has not been revealed.

Al White Remains P. A. A. Champion

YOSEMITE, Cal., June 17.—By virtue of superior form, Al White, Olympic club, remains Pacific Athletic Association diving champion today. In a hard fought contest last night waged in the presence of a huge crowd at Yosemite lodge swimming pool, White, who is also national champion, scored 148 points. Closely pressing the winner was Al De Ferrari, Olympic club, with 127 points and Jimmy Hughes of the Young Men's Institute, with 111.

Boston Man Is Saved After Drinking Poison

BOSTON—Look before you drink is now the motto of Thomas E. Merrick of this city. Merrick went to the cupboard to sample his private stock, but in the darkness seized upon the wrong bottle. Soldier Bonus Cause Of Further Troubles

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Fresh troubles over the soldiers' bonus confronted administration leaders today when Senator La Follette, republican, of Wisconsin, served notice that he would offer a motion in the senate to displace the tariff for the bonus now that Chairman McCumber of the senate finance committee had agreed not to do so.

La Follette declared he would not be bound by the compromise effected between administration leaders and McCumber by which the bonus would be taken up immediately after the passage of the tariff bill and made the "unfinished business" of the senate.

'Bad Man' Captured In Rugged Country

RAWLINS, Wyo., June 17.—Fred Brown, alias Gus Grimes, Omaha, Neb., "bad man," has been captured by a posse near Medicine Bow, Wyo., in the rugged mountain country east of here, and is being brought to this city, according to railroad officials here. First reports said Grimes had been shot down and is badly injured.

Grimes escaped from officers in Omaha nearly four weeks ago after, it is alleged, he kidnapped two young women and held them

Finals Being Held In Big Track Meet

CHICAGO, June 17.—Track history is expected to be made on Stagg field this afternoon when the flower of the nation's athletes compete in the second annual inter-collegiate meet. Records which have stood for years are expected to undergo an assault.

Terrific competition which was in evidence in the preliminaries yesterday is certain to continue in the finals today. This makes the outcome of the meeting in doubt, although Illinois and California remain favorites.

In the qualifying events yesterday Illinois and California each qualified two men. California will have two men in the 440-yard race, while Illinois will have one man in the quarter and one in the half. Minnesota, Nebraska, Mississippi, A. & M., and Notre Dame also qualified in the 440, while Penn State, Iowa, Nebraska, Pennsylvania and Central Wesleyan placed men in the 880.

Due to the heat and the high wind the performances in the qualifying heats were not particularly noteworthy.

Local People Attend Club's Final Concert

The season's final concert of the Orpheus club last night at the Trinity auditorium, Los Angeles, was attended by a number of music lovers from Glendale. Among them were Mr. and Mrs. Owen Emery, 102 South Brand boulevard; Mr. and Mrs. E. U. Emery, 329 North Kenwood street; Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Newton, 521 North Jackson street; Miss Frida M. Goertz, 347 North Central avenue; Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Kelly, 216 South Glendale avenue; Mrs. Ellen Kapus and Miss Helen Kapus, 323 Oak street.

Members of the chorus were O. W. Andresen of 350 Myrtle street and W. L. Hyde of 331 Salem street. Both Mrs. Andresen and Mrs. Hyde were in the audience.

The concert was considered remarkably good. Four piano numbers by Raymond McPeeters and four vocal numbers by the Orpheus Four, which has just returned from a concert tour, were features of the program. There were a number of solos.

STORE EMPLOYEES PICNIC

The annual picnic of employees of two department stores in Los Angeles is being held this afternoon on the hills overlooking Montrose. The occasion is the birthday of Arthur Letts, owner of both stores. It was reported that he had engaged 400 automobiles to transport the party.

SAFEGUARDED

Before the great fire in San Francisco the present mayor of that city was a large ship owner and wealthy man. After the disaster he was in the bread line for a few days, as was everybody.

At this critical time when everything else was wiped out, or not available, he was able to borrow about $50,000 on his life insurance policies at a low rate of interest. This put him on his feet and today he is again one of the largest ship owners and shippers on the Coast.

Does he believe in life insurance? You should ask him.

We rarely mention the guaranteed loan values in our contracts, but there are times when they are invaluable. You need more of such a safeguard. There is no substitute.

R. E. Stryker Gives List of Property Transactions of Past Thirty Days

R. E. Stryker, real estate operator, with offices at 217 North Brand, reports sales during the past thirty days aggregating over $50,000. Most of these sales were to out-of-town persons who planned to move to Glendale, and all of them were either homes or residence building lots.

Mr. Stryker has been a resident of Glendale a year, and has been operating his business for only eight months. His success he attributes to the fact that he operates alone, thus giving personal service to all his clients.

The following is a list of Mr. Stryker's recent sales:

T. Q. Trotter residence at 616 West Lexington to W. R. Crider of Indianapolis, Ind.

E. C. Ball residence at 601 West Myrtle to B. F. Fisher of Los Angeles.

Willys-Knight and Overland Shipments

Through foresight and satisfactory arrangements with the sales department George T. Smith, Glendale distributor for Overland and Willys-Knight cars, today is fortunate in having two carloads of these popular automobiles ready for delivery where other dealers have only received one or two for display purposes.

Incidentally, these are the new models and the Overland sedan and coupe now have floor upholstery, a new departure which will please milady driver. A new arrangement for the spark and throttle makes the Overland easier to drive while the new rear axle construction is a big selling point.

The sturdy construction, Mr. Smith states, will reduce breakage in axles to a minimum and a new shaft can be inserted without taking down the housing. The differential case now is a solid casting, also, which keeps down shop expense.

In minimizing all service complaints the Overland believes it provides the best car for less than $900 and gives dollar for dollar value.

Certainly it displays a constancy in efforts to make the car more nearly perfect in every respect. You can see the new models at 228 South Brand boulevard.

Walter S. Widdows Buys Fine Bungalow

Another family has availed itself of the opportunity of locating in Glendale's "Windsor Square." Walter S. Widdows, formerly of San Diego, has purchased a magnificent English type six-room bungalow at 1246 Winchester avenue, for a consideration of $7850. The deal was handled by W. L. Truitt, realtor, at 812 South Brand boulevard.

The purchaser intends landscaping the large grounds at once, and making this one of the show places of Glendale. He feels that he has secured one of the most desirable locations in southern California, possessing as it does a beautiful mountain view in all directions, and nearly perfect climatic conditions.

Mr. Widdows with his family will reside permanently in Glendale. He says that they have at last secured their "dream home" and are looking forward with joyful anticipation to the day when they will move into their new residence.

San Fernando Road Property Purchased

Endicott & Larson, realtors at 116 South Brand, report the sale of business property on San Fernando road to William Hildy of Glendale. The land consists of a fifty foot business lot in the triangle at San Fernando road and Brand boulevard, between the Gateway Market and the Orff building now under construction.

The property was formerly owned by Harry J. Blumenthal, of 722 North Central, now on a trip to New York. No announcement has been made as to any improvements to the lot.

EFFECT OF A CHARGED PLATE WITHIN A VACUUM TUBE

Suppose that a plate or cylinder of metal is sealed within an electric lamp so that the plate is not very far from the filament, or, in the case of the cylinder, the cylinder surrounds the filament. The electrons emitted from the heated filament are minute particles of negative electricity and will be attracted to the plate or cylinder if the object is positively charged. If the object is negatively charged the electrons will be repelled. (Unlike electric charges attract and like charges repel each other.) The electrons are really subjected to two attractions when the object is positively charged. One attraction is back to the filament and the other is toward the plate. The object, whether in plate or cylindrical form, is called the plate and will be so referred to. There is, then, some point between the filament and plate where the electrons are equally attracted by both. This is really not a point, but a region, and each electron that is able to pass through this region because of its velocity will be then attracted on to the plate. If the plate is negatively charged there will be repulsion instead of attraction, and the electrons will not be able to pass through the region mentioned. Another way of looking at the matter would be to consider the electron cloud surrounding the filament. The cloud has a negative charge, and, therefore, the space is negatively charged. The effect of the charge in the space (or the space charge) is to repel electrons to the filament. If the positive charge of the plate is great enough to overcome the space charge effect upon certain electrons, those electrons will be actually attracted over to the plate. But if the plate is negatively charged the effect of the space charge is increased, and electrons are repelled to the filament with greater force.

In what amounts electrons will actually pass through the space between filament and plate depends upon the relative effect of the positive plate charge and the negative space charge. If the charge on the plate is increased, its attractive ability is increased, and more electrons can bridge the gap. Now the positive charge is placed upon the plate by connecting it to the positive terminal of a battery, the negative battery terminal being connected to one end of the filament. There is, then, an external connection through the battery between the plate and the filament. If the battery voltage is high enough the plate will be at a higher potential than any part of the filament. It was stated in a previous article that a flow or drift of electrons from one place to another constituted an electric current. If the plate is positively charged and attracts electrons to itself from the filament there will be a current of electricity in the space between the two, and the path or circuit for the current is completed by the battery and connecting wires. But if the plate is negatively charged it repels electrons, and there is no current, since no electrons bridge the space between filament and plate.

A STORAGE PLATE BATTERY

The storage battery illustrated is for use in connection with receiving sets and can be used to furnish the plate voltages required for operation of the vacuum tubes. The voltage of one battery is twenty-four volts, and higher voltages can be secured by connecting batteries in series, as is done with the block "B" batteries. Being a storage battery, it may be charged from a direct current line after it is run down or may be charged from an alternating current line if a chemical or other suitable rectifier is used.

Each cell of the battery is set in a compartment of a heavy oak case, which has been coated with acid-proof paint. The cell jars are of glass and are leak proof. Glass allows easy inspection of the level of the electrolyte, or battery solution. The plates are of lead and the solution is sulphuric acid and water, the customary lead-acid cell. However, the insulation between the plates differs from other cells. It is of threaded rubber, so that the solution can pass from one side of the plate to the other through the threads. The rubber is not affected as greatly by the acid solution as wood separators would be. The individual cell terminal posts are brought up through rubber screw caps, which seal the glass jars tightly and prevent seepage between the jars and their covers. The battery terminal posts for connection to a circuit are high and give ample room for the attachment of clamps. The other cell terminals are connected together by means of heavy lead connecting straps, securely burned to the posts. Rubber vent plugs are provided and are easily removable for adding water to the solution and during charging.

It is claimed that all frying and hissing noises are eliminated. This and the added advantage of having a rechargeable battery should make this storage "B" battery of considerable interest.

Dr. W. R. Crowell Locates In Glendale

Offices were opened recently in the Central building by Dr. W. R. Crowell, dentist, who will make his home in Glendale. Dr. Crowell is a member of the Order of Elks, and expressed his surprise at the size and beauty of the magnificent home of the local lodge. He was impressed with the pleasant and homelike atmosphere of Glendale, and its flourishing condition decided him upon locating here, he states.

Dr. Crowell is a graduate of the University of Minnesota, and for the past six years has practiced in Minneapolis. Last fall he sold his entire equipment, except a few instruments, and came to California, where he passed the examination of the state board. Since then he has been touring California in search of the ideal location for his practice and home, and found it in Glendale, he says.

SPEED DEMONS TO MEET TODAY AT UNIONTOWN

Prize of $5,000 Offered to Winner of Pennsylvania Speedway Event

UNIONTOWN, Pa., June 17.—Nearly a score of the world's auto speed demons will start in the seventh annual Universal Trophy 225-mile automobile race at the Pennsylvania speedway here today. The entry list includes the greatest drivers in the world, embracing a majority of those who participated in the great contest at Indianapolis on Memorial day.

Participants will compete for prizes aggregating $15,000 in addition to the Universal Trophy, and points toward the national championships. The winner of the race will get $5,000, while the second place man will get $2,500, third $1,500, fourth $1,000, fifth $900, sixth $800, seventh $700, eighth $600, and three additional prizes of $500 each.

Arrangements were made prior to the Indianapolis race for the shipment of the cars from Indianapolis to Uniontown by fast express in order that the pilots and their mechanics will have ample time to tune up their mounts for the grand here.

Fastest For Its Size
The Uniontown track is recognized as the fastest in the world for its size. It is a mile and an eighth oval. It is a peculiar track in some ways. Old timers have got used to some of the delectable phases, but new drivers often get the bumps of their lives on some of the bends.

Names of five internationally known drivers are engraved on the $3,000 Universal Trophy cup, which will again be in competition. Tommy Milton has won two legs of the cup. Of the driver who wins three legs the cup will become the permanent property. Milton won the races in 1919 and 1920. The other drivers whose names are inscribed on the cup are Louis Chevrolet, the first to win this trophy in the opening race at the Uniontown track on December 2, 1916. Billy Taylor, Ralph Mulford and Roscoe Searles each have one leg of the trophy. Searles won in 1921.

DRIVER DOZING AT WHEEL IS GREAT ROAD MENACE

Sleeping Persons Have No Business Directing Car, Says Club Officers

Danger threatens motorists on the highways from drivers of trucks and auto busses who are practically asleep at the wheel, according to word received by officials of the Automobile Club of Southern California.

It is reported by investigators of the safety situation in southern California that lives are endangered on the roads by truck drivers who are forced to drive for so many hours at a stretch, in order to hold their jobs, that they fall asleep at the wheel.

If such a situation exists, it is unjust to the general traveling public, and drastic action will be taken by the Auto club to remedy it, say club officers.

"Sleeping drivers have no business at a steering wheel," declares the club, and the sooner they are ruled off the highways the better. If necessary, and it is found that truck drivers are compelled by their employers or choose to drive for so many hours without rest that they fall asleep, legislative action should be taken at Sacramento.

Menace to Public
"An automobile of any kind in the hands of a sleepy driver is a menace to the public, and a huge truck handled by a sleeper is much worse," it is pointed out. An effort will be made throughout the southern California counties to have all employers adjust the hours of their drivers so that no individual will find it necessary to drive for a period longer than physical endurance can stand, it is declared.

Bus drivers must be relayed so that they will not be at the wheel for periods which makes them sleepy and so causes serious accidents, say the Auto club. A complete investigation of the matter is to be made by the organization at once.

Make a regular inspection of the leather coverings or "boots," which protect the universals and other parts. Flying stones or sticks are apt to destroy these boots, permitting the lubricant to leak out, and giving entrance to dust and dirt.

Use strips of cotton flannel when rolling up tube. Sprinkle a talcum powder into a thick cloth bag before placing the roll there-in.

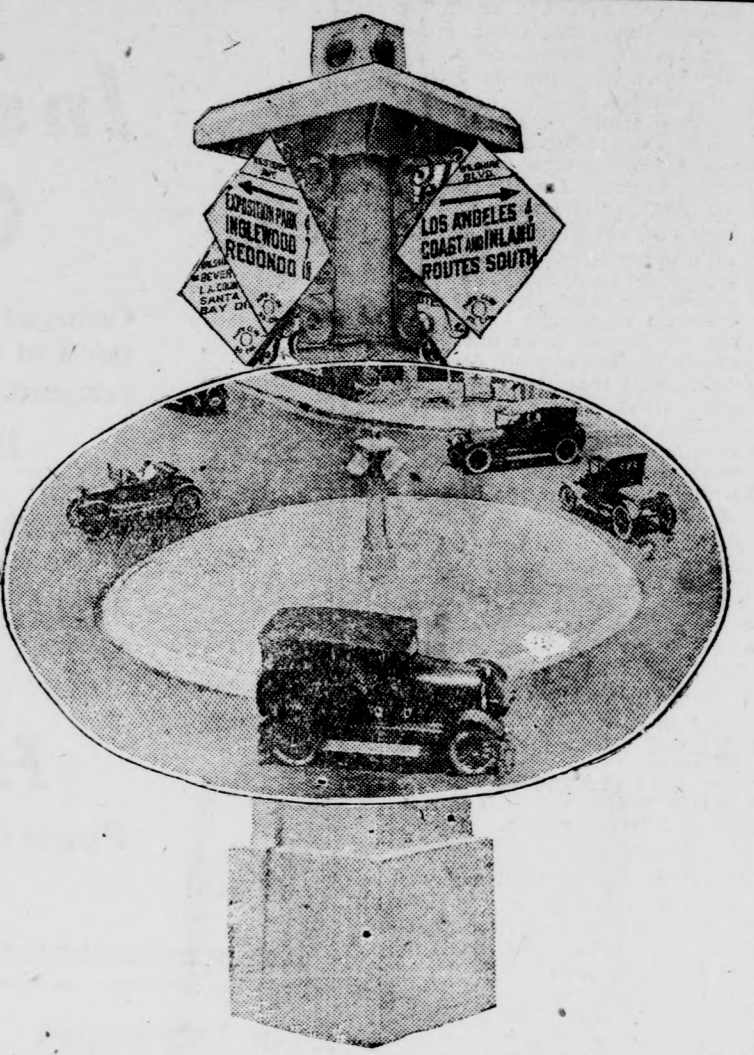

The varnish of a car is benefited and hardened by frequent washing in clear, cool water, but is damaged if mud is allowed to dry on the body of a machine.

Test the tire pump, especially the rubber tubing and the connections. If the leather piston head in the hand pump has dried up, it can be softened by an application of vaseline.

GOGGLES SAVE EYESIGHT
Only one man out of the more than 7,000 that work in the various plants of the Cadillac Motor Car company has lost the sight of an eye in an industrial accident during the past five years.

This remarkable record has been made through the efforts of the safety supervisor, foremen and officials of the company to have all men engaged in grinding operations or work of similar nature wear goggles.

Installation of Magic Circles for Controlling Traffic, Considered

This shows the magic circle. It is proposed for control of traffic. The plan is being considered by a number of cities, it is declared.

"Magic Circles" for the control of highway motor car travel in southern California are being considered by many leading cities. Officials of the Automobile Club of Southern California declare that the circle system of travel control solves the difficulty of traffic jams where two lanes of motor cars converge at any street or road intersection.

The scheme has been tried by the Auto Club in Los Angeles with remarkable success, and already many of the southern California counties are planning to adopt the modern method of eliminating traffic police by using this idea.

A greater volume of traffic can be handled by the "Magic Circle," so-called, than by the traffic button, it is claimed, and an actual check on its operation has been kept by the club's safety bureau.

The circle is between thirty and forty feet in diameter, with a concrete pillar in the center on which the club places metal direction signs guiding the motorist to local points of interest. This is capped by a flashing electric red light at night to warn motorists approaching the raised curbing of the circle.

Grass can be planted within the curb and thus beautify the corner where it is erected. Los Angeles is planning to install a number of these traffic guides.

Large List of Regulations Is Given Out by Officers at National Park

For the benefit of Glendale persons who are planning on driving to the Yosemite National Park. The Evening News is publishing the list of rules issued by the park authorities:

1. Entrances. Automobiles and motorcycles may enter and leave the park by any of the entrances, viz, Tioga Pass, Aspen valley, Crane Flat, Merced Grove, El Portal, Wawona, and Mariposa Grove.

2. The Tioga road is open from July 15 to September 30. The Big Oak Flat road from June 1 to November 1, and the Wawona road from May 1 to November 1. Opening dates are approximate only, as they are dependent upon snow conditions in the high mountain country.

3. The El Portal and Valley roads are open all the year, except occasionally during the winter when the Valley roads may be blocked with snow for short periods. These cases are rare, however, as the roads are cleared promptly after the storms.

Big Oak Flat
4. On the Big Oak Flat road and the Wawona road automobiles may enter the park only between the hours of 6 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. and may leave the park only between the hours of 6 a. m. and 10:30 p. m. No restrictions as to hours are placed on the Tioga road.

5. On the Big Oak Flat road between Gentry (station No. 2) and the floor of the Valley (station No. 1), 4 miles, and on the Wawona road between Inspiration Point (station No. 3) and floor of the Valley (station No. 4), 2½ miles, automobiles may go east, down grade only on odd hours, and may go west up grade only on even hours. Speed in no case to exceed twelve miles per hour.

6. Permits may be secured from the ranger station where the automobile enters. The fee is $5 per automobile, and the certificate is non-transferable.

More Gasoline Needed
7. Teams, pack horses, pack trains, etc., have the right of way, regardless of direction and may have the inside of the road.

Due to the high altitude attained while touring in Yosemite the power of automobiles is much reduced. Altitudes range from 2,000 feet to 10,000 feet so that a leaner mixture and about 50 per cent more gasoline is required for the average car. Gasoline may be purchased at regular supply stations and these are all marked by road signs. Ford cars equipped with an extra ten gallon tank will find this feature of no little convenience in the mountains.

END ALL SPEED LAWS
England is preparing to abolish all her speed laws for motorists and drivers of other road vehicles.

Enforcement of the regulations for dangerous driving and increased penalties for violation of the regulations are, however, contained in the report of the committee on taxation and regulation of road vehicles.

The speed limit signs, always an annoyance to the motorist, are to be done away with and in their place is expected something along the following lines:

"Go as fast as you like, but you'd better jolly well be careful."

SURPRISE RAIDING PARTIES PLAN OF AUTHORITIES

Auto Drivers Will Receive Unexpected Visits From Cops, Is Warning

Unexpected raids on motorists who evade the highway laws of the state will feature touring here this summer, say county authorities throughout the southern part of the state.

Officials of the Automobile Club of Southern California today issue a warning that motorists will be arrested this summer in practically every county for slight infringements of the law, as these small evasions often cause serious accidents.

Here is what the auto owner must watch out for, according to the Auto club's legal department:

Motorists must keep to the right hand side of the road or curb when driving or they will be liable to arrest for blocking the highway.

If only one headlight is burning you can be arrested.

Watch your tail light. If it is not burning you will be arrested this summer, sure.

Do not begin to turn to the left until you have passed the center of the highway or street intersection.

Do not fail to give the proper hand signal when you slow down or stop.

"Smart Aleck" drivers will be arrested at every opportunity.

Auto owners who have acquired a habit of driving five or eight miles faster than any certain zone speed limit will have to mend their ways and observe the exact letter of the law in southern California this summer.

Inspect your bumpers. If either one hides a license plate you will be arrested.

Call up the Auto club for the latest legal advice on all state laws.

Flivver Is Luxury, Says Laws of France

PARIS, June 17.—Is a flivver a luxury?

French law says it is. It demands a "taxe de luxe" of 10 per cent on everything that runs on four wheels and eats gasoline, irrespective of age, race or previous condition of servitude.

M. Maurice Ajam, deputy, comes to bat for the flivver. He proposes that the Chamber of Deputies suppress the tax on all motor cars of less value than 15,000 francs, about $1,500, which, in France, means flivvers and their kin.

"It won't make much difference in the budget," M. Ajam is reported to have argued.

A stone bruise in a tire casing is a break in the fabric, usually inside the casing, caused by striking a protruding stone or other object with the tire while riding it too soft or deflated. To prevent stone bruising, maintain the proper air pressure in the tire.

Fire Protection Is Need for Campers

As this season promises to be the biggest camping season on record, the government forest service is taking every possible precaution to prevent forest fires so common during the tourist season. They are regulating the camps so that every camper must clean up around his camp before he leaves for new quarters. Debris and rubbish of all kinds must be cleaned away and the forest service men are there to see that this work is properly done and woe to the camper who leaves, or attempts to leave the camp without so cleaning it up. All those who intend to camp out this summer are especially asked that they take greater precaution than ever to prevent the fires which so quickly raze our fast diminishing forests.

"Put out your fires," "Look out for hot ashes from your cigars and cigarettes," "Help prevent fires," such is the appeal from the forest reserve. Many new devices are now on the market that would help this cause and add greater convenience to the camper as well. Instead of the old-fashioned campfire that is built between two bricks or two logs that sends the sparks scattering at every little gust of wind, many improvements in the way of modern folding stoves of either the gas or wood burning type are offered. With one of the gas stoves a meal may be prepared in the time it ordinarily takes to gather firewood. All the conveniences of your gas range at home, just strike a match and there you have a roaring fire ready for cooking or baking. Perhaps you prefer a small wood stove, or a grate that may be set up in a minute's time, for nothing is handier than a grate for broiling and they are just the thing for "weiner roasts."

The lighting proposition is easily solved this year, with a new type light. No more old "smelly" kerosene lamps or lanterns that give a sickly yellow light but a nickel-plated light with gas pressure that throws a white light of three hundred candle power enough to light your whole camp if desired.

C. H. Roadbush, the camp expert at Western Auto company, 205 South Brand boulevard, is always willing to give advice as to the best way of making a camping trip a real vacation, and anyone contemplating a trip this summer will find it very much to their advantage to consult him before buying any of their camping outfit, the company announces.

Give Special Care To Tires On Desert

In discussing motor trips through desert country in the summer time, C. H. Montgomery of the Automobile Tire Company of California, local store manager at 211 South Brand boulevard, pointed out that drivers should pay special attention to their tires and avoid disastrous blow-outs.

Inflation above sixty pounds during the heat of the day is dangerous and if you let the ninety pounds, which is not uncommon around here on the boulevards, remain in the tires on sandy stretches there is every reason to expect tire trouble which may imperil the lives of the passengers.

When evening comes and ragged roads of the desert country are to be traversed, the wise driver will get out and pump the tires to seventy or eighty pounds. But be sure and deflate them the next morning to subnormal. The trouble will be worth dollars to you.

Arthur Fleming Is Happy With Maxwell

That the New Maxwell is standing up and giving good service under the very hardest conditions is evidenced by many letters received by the Glendale Motor Car company from many of the new series Maxwell owners.

The following is a letter just received from Arthur Fleming, formerly of Glendale, but who has now moved to 615 1/2 North Tower avenue, Centralia, Washington:

"Glendale Motor Car Co.,
"124 West Colorado St.,
"Glendale, Calif.

"Gentlemen: I am pleased to write you about the wonderful trip I had to Washington in my new Maxwell. I made the trip in six days, had five passengers, baggage and camping equipment. I was told so much about the trip and the difficulties I would encounter, and being a new driver, I somewhat hesitated, expecting it would be necessary to use the gears a great deal of the way, but I traveled along in high gear all the way, expecting at every turn of the road to come upon some hard hill or some difficult mountain climb. However, I went right over the Shasta and Siskiyoun mountains in high gear, the only time I shifted gears being on some very rough detours where anything above five miles per hour was out of the question.

"I averaged twenty-two and one-half miles to the gallon, without any effort at economy, and if I were to make the trip again, could do a great deal better. Only one quart of oil was used in the entire trip. There were no repairs of any kind and the same water is in the radiator that I had in it when I left Glendale.

"I was persuaded to buy a Maxwell car through a friend of mine who had one and not having the one before I had to be shown, but I take the first opportunity to let you know how well pleased I am with the car and to tell you that you really did me a favor when you sold it to me, and I especially appreciate the courteous treatment and fair dealing that I had with you people.

"Sincerely yours,
"ARTHUR FLEMING,
"615 1/2 North Tower Ave.,
"Centralia, Washington."

Chevrolets Saving On Gas Consumption

"Owners of Chevrolets are boosters in their own language," says C. L. Smith, local dealer at 400 East Broadway. "Using the words of several owners and drivers of the new Chevrolet, the consumption of gasoline averages from twenty-seven to thirty miles per gallon, which only emphasizes the economical feature. These same owners, before buying, could not have been convinced by any salesman, that this number of miles could possibly be made, but they are quick to do so. This advantage and do not hesitate to tell us about it. When voluntary statements of this nature are made to us it only strengthens our faith in the fact that for economical transportation it is a world beater."

THE EMERGENCY BRAKE
To become familiar with the location and "feel" of the lever it is advisable for motorists to use the emergency brake occasionally in ordinary driving. This is suggested so that in the event of an emergency there will be no fumbling in using it. Also, this occasional use will reveal when the brake is out of order.

Studebaker

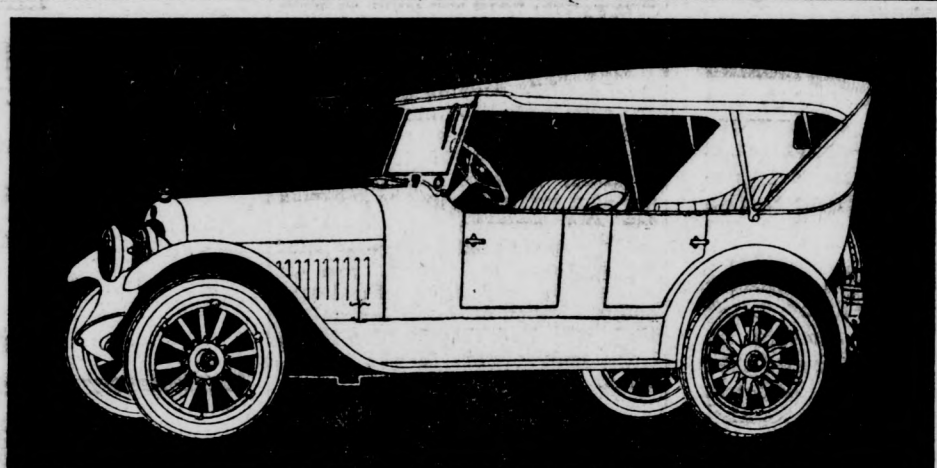

STUDEBAKER builds more six-cylinder cars than any other manufacturer because Studebaker builds them better. We can show you 84 definite points of superiority in the Special-Six over Studebaker's nearest competitor.

In times of close competition, merit wins. Today competition in automobiles is keener than it ever was, because people are buying more carefully than ever. Studebaker increased its sales 29% in 1921, though the industry, as a whole, showed a falling off of nearly 45%. 1922, up to May 1st, shows a gain in Studebaker production of 143% over the same period of 1921.

Studebaker sales records tell their own story. The buying public has declared for Studebaker superiority.

Right Lubrication Essential to Cars

Lubrication is the most essential factor in the long life of satisfactory service that a motor car renders the owner.

"The new Oakland 6-44 represents the last word in correct motor car lubrication," says Max Green, of Green & McClellan, San Fernando Valley distributors for Oakland motor cars, "and this fact was best exemplified by the performance of this car in the recent Yosemite Valley economy run in which the Oakland entry showed no signs of using any lubricating oil on the hard 360-mile dash into the mountains.

"Correct lubrication assists the cooling of a car as well. Oil carried to all working parts of the motor at all times keeps the moving parts at low temperatures and reduces friction to the minimum. The Oakland 6-44 is the only popularly priced motor car employing the hollow crankshaft force feed principle of lubrication. This method has been used by the most successful high grade cars for several years and is recognized as the only positive form of motor lubrication. Oil is pumped thru the crankshaft and timing chain. A veritable flood of oil is kept in circulation at all times. This keeps the oil cool and conserves it.

"A special test for economy and reliability is soon to be made with the new Oakland 6-44 on a trip from Los Angeles to San Francisco under the official observation of newspaper men and automobile association representatives. This event will develop the exact economy that any owner should get out of a car as all trick driving will be eliminated. We look for a wonderful showing and a record that other cars will shoot at in vain for some time to come. Every condition will be considered. S. C. Packer Gives Advice to Motorists

"With the summer season and the wider use of cars in touring, a few hints to the owners as to the care of their automobiles will be timely," says S. C. Packer, local Studebaker dealer.

"While it is a good plan to have one's car gone over thoroughly by competent mechanics, there are certain points that every owner can look after himself.

"The radiator has to be filled oftener because water evaporates more quickly in hot weather. At intervals it should be flushed out.

"Be sure your fan belt is properly adjusted.

"In order to assure proper cooling of the motor during the hot months, the spark lever should be kept in an advanced position.

"Parts such as spring shackles, wheel bearings, steering connections and universal joints should be oiled more frequently to save wear and insure smoother operation.

"Use a heavier grade of lubricating oil in the motor, transmission and differential. The oil should be drained from the motor at intervals not to exceed every 1,000 miles.

"The carburetor should be adjusted for summer driving so that the mixture will be leaner than in cold weather. Only an expert, however, should look after this.

"Brakes should be carefully inspected to make sure that they are in good condition for they are put to greater usage on city streets and country roads alike during the summer.

"The owner should remember that tires expand more in hot weather and, therefore, the pressure should be taken by gauge about once a week, particularly if tires have been in use for any length of time.

"Before starting on a long tour the tool equipment should be checked up and any tools that have been lost, replaced.

"The instruction book is the car owner's best friend, and no owner should be without it. He should follow the suggestions it gives regarding the car, remembering that everything in the book is placed there in order that he may get the most efficient service from his car. After three hours of hard, steady running a locomotive is gone over carefully. Yet there are automobile owners who expect their cars to run month in and month out without attention.

Testing Metals to Go In Nash Autos

It is frequently asked by automobile owners why one make of car possesses endurance to a point where its life is far longer than others. The answer lies in the matter of quality of materials that go into an automobile.

"Because it manufactures more of its car than does any other maker in America, The Nash Motors company is in a position to absolutely govern the quality; with an immense foundry, forge shop, heat-treating department, it is dependent upon no outside facilities for the quality of metals used in the important parts of the car. While, for instance, it is the practice of some motor manufacturers to use gray iron in cylinder blocks, Nash Motors employs an iron that contains chrome and nickel," says E. B. Sutton of the Nash agency of Glendale.

"In many plants a test is made at infrequent intervals, but with Nash Motors it is made every day, and regulates the work in the foundry for the following day. And to make sure that nothing can possibly go amiss in so important a matter, the testing instruments themselves are checked rigidly and frequently.

"The degree of hardness in metal regulates the wear on cylinder blocks. A favorable relationship in the relative hardness of the cylinder block, piston, piston rings, and cylinders is brought about through the skillful mixture of metals and positive tests. This means longer life to the motor. Laboratory tests also determine the strength of cast iron and determine its uniformity.

"Nash Motors, because of its facilities for manufacture, is making cylinder iron of considerably higher Brinell hardness than can be secured in an ordinary gray iron casting.

"All of which is an answer, in part at least, to the question of the car owner: Why do some makes of cars possess longer life than others?"

Coupe for Business Man Is Announced

Today in the advertising columns of The Glendale Evening News, George E. Clayton, Dodge Brothers motorcar dealer, 145 South Brand boulevard, corner of Harvard street, announces a new achievement in the motor world—a business man's coupe. It represents conservative changes in all other types for it involves a unique principle of coupe body construction.

It is said to be the first all-steel closed car ever marketed, which eliminates costly individual workmanship and enables the makers to give the machine a lustrous black enamel. This affords economies which are passed on to the purchaser, according to Mr. Clayton.

Business men have been anxious for such a car at a roadster price and Dodge Brothers have answered the demand by including in it an electric heater for cold weather, electric lights and genuine leather upholstery. The doors have Yale locks, there are spacious luggage compartments and many other modern features carried by the costlier cars.

The change in design in other Dodge cars is also noticeable if you visit the local display rooms, which indicates that Dodge Brothers are keeping abreast of the times although their production is always sold out months in advance.

Girls born on Monday, according to an old belief, are beautiful but jealous.

Reasons Why
You Should Buy This Car

Consider for yourself the merits of a car before you make your final decision. Don't select a car "sheeplike." Do your own choosing and be sure that the car of your choice measures up to what you expect of it. Here are seven fundamental reasons why you should own and drive the New Oakland 6-44:

1. New Beautiful Body Designs

Appearance is the first thing you meet in a motor car. The New Oakland 6-44 reflects the last word in body designs, symmetrical, graceful and pleasing, with every little detail worked out in the most finished manner.

2. An Improved 6-Cylinder Motor

The new Oakland 6-44 motor is designed in accordance with the most advanced engineering practices—small but more than adequately powerful—the principle found in the fastest racing cars. Every unit has been strengthened. Chain driven timing gears and Chadwick bronze back motor bearings such as you find in the highest priced cars—larger bearing surfaces. Force feed lubrication to every working part—meaning long life.

3. A Reinforced Oversize Chassis

A deep frame, 6 1/2 deep of channel steel, staunch and rigid, prevents body weaves and squeaks. Improved steering gear, spiral bevel driving gears in rear axle and new type adjustable brakes.

4. 15,000-Mile Guarantee

No other car gives you such a guarantee of satisfaction. This is a feature that you should consider seriously.

5. Proven Performance in Actual Use

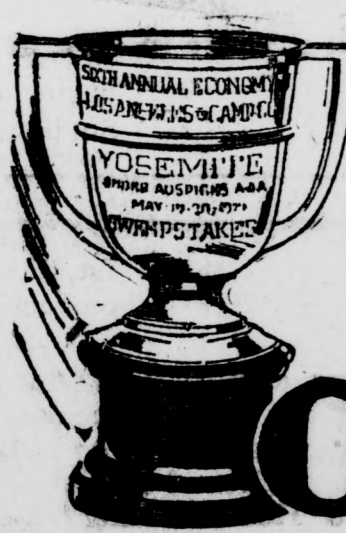

Hundreds of these new cars have been in use for the past few months and so far nothing but the most satisfactory service has been reported. Every new Oakland 6-44 is subjected to a severe road test before leaving the factory—that's the reason.

6. The Most Economical Motor Car Built

This was proven in the Yosemite Economy Run under A. A. A. observation—the new Oakland 6-44 defeating every nationally recognized economy champion by winning the Sweepstakes Cup.

7. The Lowest Price—Quality Considered

There is no other motor car on the market that offers you the values found in the new Oakland 6-44. The Touring Car at $1145, factory, is by far the lowest priced quality car built and the Roadster, Sport, Coupe and Sedan, each proportionately priced, are also big values for a little money.

Armored Reos Used to Prevent Holdups

The use of high-powered automobiles by bandits, daily thefts of payrolls, the apparent daring use of firearms by hold-up men, and the inability of the police to prevent crime committed by highwaymen, has forced corporation executives to seek a solution to a very menacing problem, and an answer has been found in a special type of armored car, according to Mr. White, of H. E. White, Inc.

"While the master-minds of the underworld were scheming new robberies, with ensuing loss of life, the heads of big corporations in the east were facing a critical situation, augmented by the impending raising of rates of protective insurance," says Mr. White.

"But insurance only covers the actual cash loss, lives being unprotected and no return of the vast amount of energy needed in restoring lost records.

proven merit. One of these armored cash carriers is seen daily in the service of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railroad and the body was built in accordance with the ideas of Major Francis H. Schoettel, head of their Secret Service and Police Department."

In selecting the Reo Speed Wagon for the armored type car, Mr. White points out that the railroad executives and engineers demand speed, plus safety, plus economy; three essential features of this type of chassis, combined with rugged strength and endurance under all conditions. Many bankers throughout southern California are reported as investigating the merits of the model to thwart thefts of bank money in transportation and payroll hold-ups; affording delivery of large sums of money with speed and safety.

DON'T RUIN CAR FINISH

Automobiles should never be washed with kerosene, gasoline, lye soaps or hot water, because they are ruinous to the finish and paint. It pays to take time with the car in order to keep it presenting a bright and neat appearance.

Brings Ohio Air to City by Studebaker

Arriving in Glendale with Ohio air in the tires, M. S. Brown, formerly a mechanic at Lovejoy's garage in Burbank, drove into the Packer Auto company shop here this morning in a Studebaker Light Six that is running as prettily as though it were new.

Troy, Ohio, was the starting point for his 3115 mile trip which consumed 171 gallons of gas and 5 gallons of oil (the crank case was drained twice), so you can figure it out for yourself how inexpensive traveling by motor car now is.

"Not one second of motor trouble," reported Mr. Brown, "although we were pulled out of quicksand in Tennessee by a mule and got stuck going down hill in mud in the same part of the country. And we shimmied across Texas something fearful," he concluded.

Mr. Brown is visiting with his uncle in Burbank.

American women have the best figures in the world. This is because they are the most active.

OIL, CLEAN AND ADJUST
If an automobile is properly lubricated and minor adjustments made when the need demands them it will be unnecessary to arrange for complete overhauling of the car, such as the taking apart, cleaning, adjusting and replacing worn parts of every mechanical unit. Rattles or knocks develop, but will be discovered immediately as they occur if a weekly inspection is given by the owner, and should be attended to and remedied at once. When the car is very old and has reached its limit of service, general overhauling may be necessary, although even then there may be parts in fair condition.

A Home is the bright, blessed, adorable phantom which sets highest on the sunny horizon that girdeth life. When shall it be reached? When shall it cease to be a glittering day-dream and become fully and fairly yours?

Plan No. 1556

No more practical idea for an attractive exterior or more convenient arrangement of rooms was ever developed than is reflected in this modern two-story home.

The exterior is of concrete over either brick, tile, wood or metal lath or composition plaster boards. The roof is covered with tile and the front porch and steps are of cement. The glassed-in sun porch is a special feature and the home in its entirety is one that cannot help but make its appeal.

After you have studied the room arrangement carefully and there are questions you would like to ask or additional information you are desirous of obtaining, you are to feel welcome to advise with the Home Building Editor, care this paper.

The following progressive firms, organizations and citizens, recognizing the value of thrift as evidenced in home-building, and intensely interested in making this a city of real homes, recommend this action to every family which has not yet made the start. They advise that you put your surplus money into home-building materials at the earliest opportunity. So earnest are they in this wish that they have secured the services of competent home designers who will give their expert assistance in aiding you to plan your home. Back of our Homes

Every progressive business interest is solidly back of each home in this community. Building a home at once stamps you as a permanent and desirable citizen—and secures for you this backing of all worth-while factors in the community.

If an employer, you at once rise in the respect of your employees—

If a worker, you suddenly gain an added importance in the eyes of your employers.

Just as business is back of the home, so is the home back of all happiness in life. A real home is one which you own and which has been built THE WAY YOU WANT IT.

To help you we have Photographs and Plans of just the home you want. How long would you delay if an inheritance were yours just for the asking? A home is the best inheritance that can be conceived; and our service is just the thing you have been waiting for. Avail yourself of it and start building that home—NOW.

ENGLAND GIVES AID TO HELICOPTER INVENTOR

Marquis Pescara and his Helicopter. (N.Y. Times)

By DAVID M. CHURCH
LONDON.—The helicopter, an airplane which flies perpendicularly, is virtually an actuality, according to authoritative information.

The Air Ministry of Great Britain is maintaining the strictest secrecy concerning the development of the helicopter, but it is learned that tests which have already been made indicate that within a very short time the Air Ministry will be able to announce that a British inventor has perfected the helicopter.

Louis Brennan is the inventor who is working on the helicopter, under the encouragement of the British government. Brennan's experiments are being carried out behind closed doors at Farnborough, and it is learned that no more than four persons have thus far seen the result of his efforts. His staff of engineers is very small, and when it becomes necessary for the employment of a large number of men the work is allotted to various shops and is done according to specifications which make it impossible for the workmen to learn what they are achieving. When each group of workmen completes its part of the work the whole is assembled by Brennan and his assistants in the secrecy of aerial sheds at Farnborough.

Brennan's experimental works at Farnborough are very expensive and it is understood that several test flights of the helicopter have already been made. It has been officially admitted that the helicopter has successfully flown, but there has been no announcement of the height of the flight or its duration. It is understood, however, that these preliminary tests have caused Brennan to give assurance to the British Air Ministry that in a comparatively short time he will be able to demonstrate publicly the feasibility of the helicopter.

The British government has offered a prize of $200,000 to the first successful inventor of a helicopter and at Farnborough there are numerous mechanics who are waiting for the French Minister of Air to collect the prize.

From Paris comes a report that Marquis Pescara, inventor of the Pescara helicopter, has completed a successful test before the French Minister of Air at Issy les Moulineaux.

The British Air Ministry, however, will continue tests with Brennan's machine, hopeful that it will prove more successful than that of the French inventor. While considerable rivalry exists between the two nations in the development of this novel aircraft, Great Britain's enthusiasts are not divulging any of their plans.

Oregon Candidate Spent Only a Penny

SALEM, Ore.—Of all the candidates for office at the recent Oregon primaries, George A. Lovejoy, who sought the Democratic endorsement for representative in the state legislature from Multnomah county, has the record for the lowest expenditure.

Lovejoy reported to Secretary of State Sam Kozier the munificent slush fund of one cent.

The candidate reported he spent the penny for a postal card with which he applied for a nomination blank.

'Male and Female' at T. D. & L. Today

"Male and Female," Cecil B. DeMille's great picture with one of the finest casts ever assembled in any one picture, including Thomas Meighan, Gloria Swanson, Theodore Roberts, Lila Lee, Raymond Hatton and Bebe Daniels, is today the feature attraction at the T. D. & L. Geo. Oliver, vaudeville entertainer in songs and chatter, is billed as an added attraction.

The sequel to that long remembered Fannie Hurst photodrama, "Humoresque," is the "Good Provider" and will be the exceptionally attractive feature for Sunday.

Governor to Tell 'News'
LOS ANGELES, June 17.—Governor William D. Stephens officially will announce his candidacy for re-election in a few days, according to authoritative information received here today, and Los Angeles will become the summer capital of California for several months.

It was learned today that preparations are now being made for the filing of the necessary papers announcing Governor Stephens' candidacy and names are already being secured on the petitions requesting the governor to seek re-election.

Kleagle to Get Release

LOS ANGELES, June 17.—The $5000 bail required for the release pending trial of Nathan A. Baker, Kleagle of the Ku Klux Klan and confessed leader of the Ingleswood raiders, indicted with thirty-six other klansmen for participation in mob violence during the raid, will be furnished Monday, it was asserted today.

No word has been received here today from William S. Coburn, former grand go-between of the Klan and indicted with the alleged Ingleswood raiders because, though he did not take part in the raid, he was contemplated, as to time of his expected arrival. Coburn was last heard from in Atlanta, Ga., when he said he was coming to Los Angeles to surrender and stand trial.

Superior Judge Houser, who ordered the grand jury's report denouncing the Klan as a lawless organization be kept secret until after the defendants have been tried, explained his action today by stating that the grand jury had performed its function by returning the indictments, and that to make the report public now would tend to inflame public opinion.

Jury To See Murder Site

LOS ANGELES, June 17.—The jury trying Madalynne C. Obenchain on a charge of murdering J. Belton Kennedy will be taken early next week for an inspection trip to Beverly Glen, where the state contends Mrs. Obenchain fired Kennedy to his death on the night of August 5 of last year.

One of the most sensational bits of testimony yet disclosed in the Kennedy murder trials was uncovered late yesterday when a state witness testified that Burch told him the approximate time he would return on the automobile trip during which the state contends he killed Kennedy.

Refuses to Grant Divorce

LOS ANGELES, June 17.—Mrs. Caroline Chilberg, the original of "Cherry Malotte" in one of Rex Beach's novels of Alaska, and Eugene Chilberg, still her husband and wife today, Judge Hahn having denied a divorce after a lengthy hearing in which Mrs. Chilberg sought to prove that her husband deserted her, while he contended she was the one who was guilty of desertion. A former divorce suit ended similarly, with a denial of a decree to each.

New Scheme in Smuggling

LOS ANGELES, June 17.—Federal narcotic agents in Los Angeles and at the border were warned today of a new wrinkle in smuggling powdered narcotics across the Mexican border. According to their informant, a woman, who alleged she had been tricked out of her share of the proceeds of the illicit traffic, the new scheme to outfit the narcotic and customs duty was to hide the morphine and cocaine in a secret compartment in the bottom of Madame's powder box. She said that a coterie of women who posed as wealthy eastern tourists found it easy to cross and recross the border, going to Tia Juana and Mexicali without being halted.

Leone Hassenauer Is George Cross' Bride

The wedding of Miss Leone Hassenauer of Glendale and George Cross of Los Angeles took place Thursday morning, June 15, 1922, at 7:30 o'clock at the Holy Family Catholic church. Miss Hassenauer is the niece of Miss Rose Yokel of 720 South Louise street, with whom she has been making her home for the past five years since coming here from Wapakoneta, Ohio.

The single ring service was used. Rev. James S. O'Neill officiating. The church had been artistically decorated with roses, carnations and greenery. The bride wore her going-away suit of navy blue with corsage bouquet of pink roses. Mr. and Mrs. Perry Fulk of Santa Monica were the attendants. The wedding was attended by immediate relatives and intimate friends. Following the service the party adjourned to the home of Miss Yokel where a wedding breakfast was served, including a large wedding cake. Mr. and Mrs. Cross left on a honeymoon trip to San Diego. They will make their home in Los Angeles on their return.

L. C. Drake Asserts Business Very Good

L. C. Drake of the Maryland garage, 125 North Maryland avenue, says: "I am more than well pleased with the growth of my business since opening up some two months ago and the prospects for future expansion. It proves conclusively to me that my idea of honestly dealing with the public will quickly make lasting friends. "I now have practically as much repair work as I can handle and my storage space is usually taken, both day and night. When opening the garage I naturally felt that it would require a considerable length of time to become known, but today my business is certainly gratifying."

KAISER'S MEMOIRS BRING HIGHEST CASH FIGURE

"The Times" of Los Angeles Among Group Which Purchased Epoch-Making Document

BY CYRIL BROWN
[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BERLIN, June 12.—Berlin and Leipzig have been the scenes during the last four weeks of the most extraordinary competition of groups of newspaper and book publishers that has ever occurred. These groups included directly and indirectly practically every important newspaper in the world and many leading book publishers. The object of the competition was to obtain the serial rights and the book rights to the personal memoirs of the former German Kaiser, which have been long in preparation and were declared ready to be offered for publication early in May.

—A few chapter heads as cabled from Berlin:

My Assistants and Our Successes with regard to Public Administration.
My Relationship with Religious Denominations.
The Outbreak of the War.
Army and Navy.

The Pope and Peace.
The End of the War and My Abdication.
Up to the Bar of a Neutral Tribunal.
The Question of Guilt.
The Revolution and the Future of Germany.

The Wonderland in Transformation

—Foreword of a Great Campaign

—Prophecy has fallen short; achievement has overtaken expectations; Southern California is on the road to a greatness never dreamed of by its sons and daughters. The LOS ANGELES TIMES, in keeping with its policy of reflecting in its own affairs the progress of the community, will embark on an extensive campaign. Activities will take many forms—surprises, thrills, opportunities to earn actual rewards. Back of all will be enlarged cable service; new correspondents; additional features; changes in physical form of certain sections, all with the determined aim to give Greater-Than-Ever Southern California a Greater-Than-Every LOS ANGELES TIMES.

Fire Officer Warns About Burning Grass

"Residents of Glendale should use care in burning off weeds and grass," says Captain "Jack" Rockwell of fire station No. 1. The department has answered a number of calls lately to extinguish grass fires which got beyond control, and which frequently endangered homes.

Captain Rockwell also cautions Glendale folks to clear away the grass and weeds which often grow thickly against the walls of houses and garages. If a space is kept clear around the buildings, explains the captain, the danger of destruction of the structures by grass fires is greatly reduced.

"This hot weather is drying things out considerably, and the public should co-operate with the fire department in every way possible to prevent a disastrous fire," finished Captain Rockwell.

"The average walking pace of a healthy woman is seventy-five steps a minute."

D. W. MacDonald Is Purchaser of Home

D. W. MacDonald of Covina, representative in Southern California of the Universal Silicate Stucco company, has purchased a home in Glendale and will locate here. Through the agency of Edwards & Wilsey company, 139 North Brand, he secured the six-room E. C. Warburton home at 426 West Broadway.

Mr. MacDonald chose Glendale to be his home after a careful investigation of this and other cities. He chose Glendale because he considers it the center of building activity in southern California, he said.

The Edwards & Wilsey company also reports the sale of a house at 450 Patterson street to J. E. Morrison, of Los Angeles. Mr. Morrison is auditor for the Pacific Finance company, of Los Angeles, but will make his home in the City of Homes.

Men Investigate Flicker of Light and Find Fire In Machine Shop

Curiosity on the part of a couple of mechanics working in the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company's garage saved the Brand boulevard business section from the menace of a serious fire last night.

Edward Muren saw a flicker of light in Fred Hill's machine shop at 123 South Brand boulevard in the rear of the Monarch Auto & Supply company.

"Wonder if they're burning rubbish?" he asked O. Peterson. "Let's see," was the answer, and they found that rubbish was burning in the rear of the Glendale Paint & Paper company's store, unbeknown and already had ignited a light truck and the Hill shop, burning the electric connections.

The fire department was summoned, doused water around the alley and Frank Meyers, a city employee, pulled the power switch in the Hill shop, getting severely shocked because of the short circuit. A large number of spectators were attracted to the scene.

W. L. Moore Learns Of Friends' Murder

A copy of the "Belfast Telegraph" of May 2 has just been received by W. L. Moore of the Irish Linen Store, 117 North Brand boulevard, from his father, Thomas Moore, who is a resident of Ballymacreedy, County Down, Ireland.

A two column story is devoted to the "murder" or assassination of W. J. Taddell, member of the English parliament from Belfast. This news was of especial interest to Mr. Moore because of the fact that he worked for Mr. Taddell in a Belfast linen store four years before coming to America.

"He was waylaid by two or three men, while passing from Royal avenue to his business premises in North street," declares the account of the affair. "They produced revolvers and fired, seven or eight shots taking effect about the head and chest. The ground and his cowardly assailants made their escape in different directions. A woman was shot at the same time from a stray bullet."

A number of pictures, of events connected with the "Irish Situation" fill the paper, and advertisements of houses or rooms in the classified columns are careful to specify whether they are in a Protestant or Catholic neighborhood.

One of the oddities of this newspaper is the fact that its front page is entirely devoted to a mixture of classified and display advertising. There are six pages in all, somewhat larger than the size of the pages in this paper. The amount of news space, however, does not exceed that in this issue of The Glendale Evening News.

PLAN U. S. GASOLINE TAX.
Because of the $350,000,000 deficit expected in the treasury department as a result in the slump in income tax collections, it has been proposed in Washington to increase the Federal tax on gasoline and motor vehicles.

Grecian dance, "Spring," Mary Louise Brown. 22. Oriental dance, "Ballet Egyptian," and "La Cinquantaine," by Rosanna Ruggiero, who wore a very striking costume of white satin and carried a bowl of incense. 23. COMMENT THAT'S ALL

Pleasures of the Past
Ready to Fight Fire?
Working for Government
Human Hogs Cause Strife

By Gil A. Cowan

IRRESPECTIVE of the little boys' feelings, the city fathers have pursued a wise course in making firecrackers and fireworks the subject of an emergency ordinance and banishing them from Glendale.

In the present motor age the danger of explosives promiscuously thrown about makes it mandatory that they be prohibited. Think of a cannon crater lighting on the gasoline tank of an automobile parked along Brand boulevard.

Before a policeman, fireman or anyone could say "Jack Robinson" three or more machines would be destroyed and the offender would be gone.

Think of a piece of fireworks, such as a ball from a Roman candle, landing in a weed covered lot, or on a sun-dried roof.

Within fifteen minutes at least one home would be well on its way to ruin and somebody's Fourth of July would be that of sorrow.

Firecrackers are a pleasure of the past. Their manufacture should be prohibited and the display of fireworks should be made only from barges on the water of some handy stream, or out in the lakes.

Of course, there is the argument of personal danger against the uproarious celebration of independence, and even that is a terrible price, for some children lose their hands, others their eyes and more are given a fright that lasts a lifetime.

So the youngsters have not been cheated by the wise councilmen.

While dealing with the fire menace, it is well to suggest that every motorist planning a long trip should carry some sort of an extinguishing device, for its necessity is seen many times in the course of its life.

A shovel is another handy thing to have, for sand thrown on gasoline is quite effective when nothing else is available.

And remember that water is precious for the thirst when dealing with fires far from a source of supply.

So, as the old saying goes, let your conscience be your guide.

An assessed valuation of $20,000,000 in the city of Glendale struck some folks in Glendale pretty hard in the pocketbook. About $4,000,000 was added because of the Glendale spirit, it is reported.

And an installment of income taxes has just been paid, so, if you are short changed or overcharged today, just remember that the poor business man is trying to get even with the world.

Some have expressed the sentiment that they are working for Uncle Sam without being asked about it. Surely it must seem that way, and only by the stint of long hours, hard labor and keen business acumen can many expect to keep their shops open.

This generally is less true in Glendale than elsewhere, probably, but there should be some action to curb the expenditures of the state, county and municipal expenditures, now that the national government has made a more or less successful effort to get things back to normal.

There is only one thing standing in the way of normal conditions prevailing in America today, and that is the price of labor. Shorted by the war, this prosperous nation is paying an inconsistent toll to literally unskilled labor, a fairly high price for untrained workers and, in some instances, ridiculous remuneration to executives.

However, the underlying cause for the present strife over who will get the larger share of this world's goods seems to originate in the efforts of human hogs to corner markets, control prices and exact long profits where they are not justified. This applies both to capital and labor.

Specifically, higher prices are obtained where costs are proportionately lower than elsewhere. In Glendale, for instance, the prices here for most commodities are nominal considering the costs of doing business. Enterprises are operated at a smaller net profit in this city than in hundreds of other communities.

If you do not believe that such is a fact, ask the auditors who know. Their statements of individual business concerns provide one surprise after another.

And, among these surprises, if you can get the production record of employees, you will find that the average person does more here than elsewhere.

This efficiency may be attributed to the climate in a measure, but it is mainly due to the fact that only a person with ambition seeks to conquer a situation requiring speed.

Again, the rising generation of the vicinity are a higher class, both physically and mentally. They are making their mark early in life.

Yes, it is expressionistic of the community in which they live—the fastest growing in America.

Jack Ray, Formerly Resident Here, Dead

Jack Ray, who formerly resided at 1014 North Louis street, is reported dead at Phoenix, Ariz., and his body shipped back to New York for interment. Prior to coming to the west for his health he was an executive of the Columbia Phonograph company. He resigned from the position of assistant to the president, because of lung and heart trouble.

BIG ANNIVERSARY IS PLANNED BY J. A. NEWTON

Entire Week to Be Given Over to Open House and Demonstrations

How many people in Glendale today who remember the eventful day, June 20, 1910, when J. A. Newton, as a member of an electric firm, opened the first exclusive shop of its kind in a little frame shack at the corner of Broadway and Howard streets?

On the average of every four years, space has been doubled and the J. A. Newton Electric company finally moved into the Chamber of Commerce building at 154 South Brand boulevard last year, a model home for the large concern.

So it is that an anniversary week is going to be observed and as a special event there will be an open house, reception and demonstration Tuesday night, June 20, with the radio department furnishing a concert and demonstrating supplies.

To Serve Refreshments

Refreshments electrically cooked will be served during the evening, electric fans will keep the visitors cool, and a five-piece orchestra will provide the music. A special lighting fixture sale during the week will be material interest to contractors.

Speaking of the event, J. A. Newton says:

"A large amount of the success of this firm has been attained in the last 12 years through constant endeavor to maintain the finest electrical shop in southern California. I greatly appreciate the patronage which has made possible this advancement, and it has been our aim to do only high grade work with prices consistently reasonable."

"In our present store arrangements have been complimented by people connected with the industry and many merchants have come long distances to see our outlay before starting to equip their new stores themselves. This is particularly true of the unique lamp display rack which is a built-in feature of the display room."

MARY RINEHART'S STORY PICTURIZED

'The Glorious Fool' Appears
On Screen at Glendale;
Vaudeville Program

A delightful Goldwyn comedy from the pen of Mary Roberts Rinehart, "The Glorious Fool," is presented at the Glendale Theatre today. The story takes place in a hospital, with the heroine a sympathetic probationer and the hero a private patient who insists upon marrying his nurse and leaving all his wealth to her. But he doesn't die. Upon his recovery, he assigns himself the arduous task of wooing his wife.

Alan Grey & company present a comedy illusion as one of the five feature acts today with the Romano Sisters, three dancing beauties, sharing honors. Castle and Belmont have an elaborate study of types while Edna Heming is a character comedienne. Bailey and Porter, colored singers and dancers, round out the bill. Capacity crowds are expected so it is well to be early or late at Saturday night shows.

Rupert Hughes is the author of the comedy, "Come On Over," which will be shown for two days at the Glendale Theatre, beginning Sunday.

Tribute to Be Paid to Lillian Russell

Memorial services for the late Lillian Russell, which will be held in the Orpheum theatre, Los Angeles, Sunday morning, will be attended by a number of residents from Glendale.

Mayor Spencer Robinson will sing "There is No Death" and later will lead the congregation in singing the closing hymn, "My Faith Looks Up to Thee."

Louise Dresser, who is now Mrs. "Jack" Gardner of 1225 Mountain street, will sing the opening hymn.

The eulogy and sermon will be delivered by Rev. Baker P. Lee of Los Angeles.

Four-minute talks on the life of Lillian Russell will be given by Ida McGlone Gibson, Trixie Friganza, L. E. Behymer, Joseph Scott and Frederick Warde.

The service will open at 10:50 with a short concert by the Orpheum theatre orchestra.

'New Minister' Will Be Selected Again

"Rev. Homer Alexander Brown" will be chosen as the "new minister" Friday, June 23, by the "choir" of the First Methodist church.

This play is to be repeated by special request of members of the audience who haven't stopped laughing since it was given for the first time a week or so ago.

It will be presented by the same original cast of twenty-five. It is said that the man who cannot crack a smile, must have something on his conscience.

Several offers have been made to the choir to present the play in other towns.
